

ADL Latest News:

Taking you Practice into the Digital Era

ADL is pleased to two new pieces of equipment that will enhance our ability to bring your practice the very latest in dental technology. We recently acquired a Cerac MC XL milling machine and a Etkon Digital Scanner for custom abutments and Etkon Zerion copings. We're committed to forging ahead in the latest fields of dental restorations so that you can confidently tell your patients that you are receiving the best science has to offer. Feel free to call us for more information on our Cerac or Etkon machines. As gold prices continue to rise, using all-ceramic restorations like Cerac or Etkon will help your bottom line without compromising on clinical success – make your next restoration an ADL All-Ceramic.

NEW! ADL All-Ceramics Indication Guide

Have you ever wondered what the indications are for all the all-ceramics options available? We understand that prescribing the right restoration for your patient is critical to clinical success. Contact us for a free brochure delineating the indications for the All-Ceramic products we carry at ADL. As gold prices continue to rise, using all-ceramic restorations like Procera or Lava will help your bottom line without compromising on clinical success – make your next restoration an ADL All-Ceramic.

iTero Seminar: Digital Impressions by Cadent iTero

Tues., July 22, 2008 6-8pm at ADL Dental Lab (4411 Poplar Level Road)

2 CE credits given and refreshments will be served

Predictable results using a contemporary digital impression system by Cadent iTero: Have you heard what this is all about?

Dr. Yvan Fortin and the Marius Bridge

Fri., August 15, 2008 8am-5pm (registration at 7:30am) at Downtown Jewish Hospital

$149 registration before May 31st and $199 thereafter which includes box lunch and refreshments

7 CE credits

Sponsored by Nobel Biocare, Advanced Implant and Perio Center, Aesthetic Dental Society of Louisville, Kelley Dental Laboratory, and the Academy of General Dentistry

Call 812-945-7122 to register